Initial Meeting for possible Partnership with BJMP Santa Rosa City

Graduate School Library, UPHSL

December 6, 2023

In an initial meeting held at the Graduate School Library of the University of Perpetual Help System Laguna (UPHSL), Dr. Josefa G. Carrillo, the Director for International and External Affairs, spearheaded discussions aimed at forging an innovative partnership with the Bureau of Jail Management and Penology (BJMP) of Santa Rosa City, Laguna. The meeting, attended by key figures including Ms. Nova Marie Estabillo, Director for Student Personnel Services, and Ms. Clarisse Anne Lebios, OIC for Community Extension Services of UPHSL, laid the foundation for a potential academic collaboration between the university and BJMP Santa Rosa City.

The discussions unveiled an exciting opportunity for UPHSL to join forces with BJMP Santa Rosa City, with a focus on creating significant benefits for both the local community and the university. The vision and commitment expressed during the meeting underscored the positive impact that this partnership could bring, generating enthusiasm for the transformative possibilities that lie ahead. Among the distinguished attendees from BJMP Santa Rosa City were JCINSP Jay Tee O. Tancangco, City Jail Warden; JO1 Jaemi D. Valles, Welfare and Development Officer; and JO1 Jexter L. Llanes, Community Relation Services Officer. Their presence highlighted the collaborative spirit and shared dedication to fostering positive change.

This potential collaboration is set to establish the groundwork for an innovative connection that aims to transform community engagement. UPHSL and BJMP-Santa Rosa City are poised for a joint endeavor, committed to making a positive difference and promoting shared prosperity. The forthcoming period will witness a series of collaborations, integrating education with community service, paving the way for a more promising and optimistic future for both institutions and the broader community served by BJMP Santa Rosa City. As the details of this exciting venture continue to unfold, it signifies a significant step towards creating a harmonious relationship between academia and community service, demonstrating the potential for positive societal impact through strategic collaborations.
